The data you will receive immediately after the deicing event is so-called raw-data, which is generated automatically from our deicing system. This data is not yet verified and quality assured, therefore in exceptional cases, there may occur deviations between this raw data and the subsequent invoice.
The data provided to you in the invoice is for accounting purposes as well as in principal the only correct and relevant data. Henceforth in order to highlight this the following sentence is part of the automated dispatch E-Mail: „Your will find attached the de-icing data of your flights. Please note that these data are subject to verification and may differ to the invoice.”
